

News Briefs For February 14, 2019

González Byass has launched a certified organic wine within Chilean brand Viñedos Veramonte's lineup. Made in Chile's Casablanca Valley, the Viñedos Veramonte 2018 Sauvignon Blanc is retail priced at $12 a 750-ml. and marks the first expression in what González Byass says will eventually be a wholly organic and biodynamic portfolio of Chilean wines. The company plans to convert all its vineyards in the Casablanca, Colchagua, and Apalta Valleys to 100% organic and biodynamic farming over the next couple of years. The González Byass Chilean portfolio also includes the Ritual, Primus, and Neyen wines.

